Brief summary of the activity:

‘Paridhaaranam’ in Sanskrit translates to ecosystem restoration. It was initiated by the department of Zoology from the year 2021 as an annual program to create awareness among students and public about the importance of our environment. This year we had the event for a day we had talk by an eminent personality Vrijulal M V followed by various other events for all streams.

To keep the spirit of celebrating World Environment Day-2023, Dept. of Zoology chose the themes “Beat Plastic Pollution” and “Think, Eat, Save- Reduce Your Food Print”. The themes of the event were chosen which are thought provoking and designed to elicit interest and enthusiasm from the participants and ensure they are the ambassadors to carry forward the theme of this year World Environment Day and for next generations by applying - A Healthy Environment for a Healthy Life.

The details of the program are as given below:

The session began with an introduction and the gathering was welcomed by Haripriya, II B.Sc student. Ananya S.S, III BSc CBZ gave an introduction to the audience about the event Paridhaaranam. Introduction of speaker was done by Rithika, III BSc CZBT, followed by the talk by the speaker. Gagana, II year CZBT student proposed vote of thanks. The Organising Secretary was Ms Bhavya B, HOD Department of Zoology. Program coordinators for the event was Ms Hema S and Ms Kavyashree R K Department of Zoology.

Students from KLE Society's S Nijalingappa College, Department of Zoology also attended the talk.

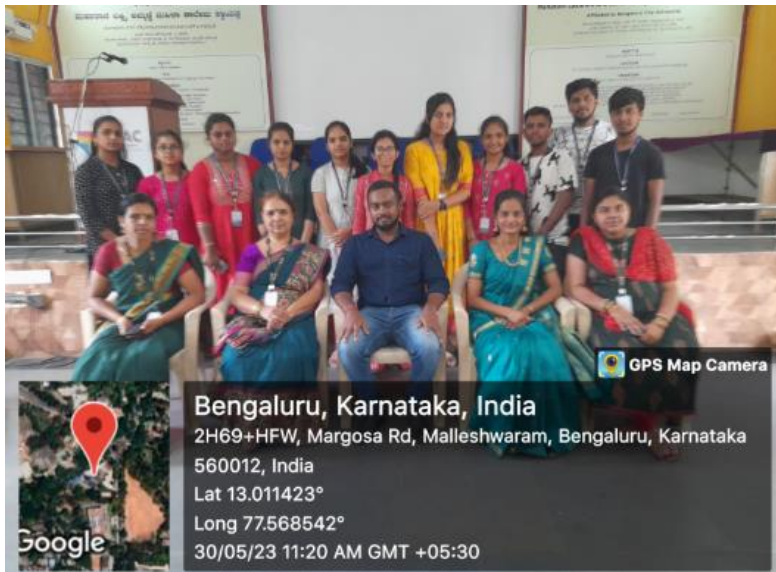

Resource person Vrijulal M V made the session very interactive by eliciting the answers from the participants. He gave participants lot of take-home messages.
